

NABA Secretary

Candidate:

Kahtleen Soyka

Candidate Bio

Kathleen Soyka is a dedicated behavior analyst with a passion for expanding access to behavior-analytic services for individuals of all ages and backgrounds. Her journey into behavior analysis began during her undergraduate studies in special education, where she first discovered the field and became captivated by its potential to make meaningful, lasting change. Over the years, Kathleen has gained extensive experience working in various roles within the field. She earned her Master's degree in behavior analysis from the University of Kansas and has since committed herself to serving individuals with diverse needs. Kathleen's professional focus encompasses the application of behavior analysis across multiple settings, including those supporting children, families, and adults. Currently, she works as a behavior analyst at The Learning Consultants in northern Nevada, where she continues to apply her skills in both research and practice.

Please describe your organizational skills.

I am very organized like to create systems, and tools that make everyone's job easier.

How familiar are you with using Google Drive?

I am very familiar with all the ins and outs of Drive.

Have you had experience taking meeting minutes before?

Yes, I served on the NABA board as secretary before and familiar with the way NABA takes meeting meetings

What makes you a good candidate for this role?

I am highly organized, detail-oriented, and driven, with a strong understanding of NABA's mission and values. Having recently served as a board member, I am eager to continue contributing my skills and dedication to support and assist all NABA members.